Violation: 15 U.S.C. § 1

INFORMATION

COUNT ONE
CONSPIRACY TO RESTRAIN TRADE
(15 U.S.C. § 1)

THE UNITED STATES, ACTING THROUGH ITS ATTORNEYS, CHARGES:

Defendant and Co-Conspirators

1. Stanley Electric Co., Ltd. ("Defendant") is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Japan, with its principal place of business in Tokyo, Japan. During the period covered by this Information, Defendant was engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling automotive high-intensity discharge ("HID") headlamps, which contained automotive HID lamp ballasts, to certain automobile manufacturers for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere.

2. Other corporations and individuals, not made defendants in this Information, participated as co-conspirators in the offense charged in this Information and performed acts and made statements in furtherance of it.

3. Whenever in this Information reference is made to any act, deed, or transaction of any corporation, the allegation means that the corporation engaged in the act, deed, or transaction by or through its officers, directors, employees, agents, or other representatives while they were actively engaged in the management, direction, control, or transaction of its business or affairs.

Background of the Offense

During the period covered by this Information:

4. Defendant and its co-conspirators sold and/or supplied automotive HID lamp ballasts to or for certain automobile manufacturers for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere. Defendant and its co-conspirators sold and/or supplied automotive HID lamp ballasts (a) in the United States for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, (b) in Japan for export to the United States and installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, and (c) in Japan for installation in vehicles manufactured in Japan, some of which were then exported to and sold in the United States.

5. An automotive HID lamp ballast is an electrical device that is essential for the operation of an HID headlamp. It regulates the electrical current used to ignite and control the electrical arc that generates the intensely bright light emitted by an automotive HID headlamp fixture. When purchasing automotive HID lamp ballasts, certain automobile manufacturers issue Requests for Quotation ("RFQs") to manufacturers of automotive HID lamp ballasts on a model-by-model basis for model-specific parts. Manufacturers of automotive HID lamp ballasts submit quotations, or bids, in response to these RFQs, and the automobile manufacturers issuing the RFQs award the business to the selected manufacturer of automotive HID lamp ballasts for the lifespan of the model, which is usually four to six years. Typically, the bidding process for a particular model begins approximately three years prior to the start of production.

Conspiracy to Restrain Trade

6. From at least as early as July 1998 and continuing until at least February 2010, the exact dates being unknown to the United States, Defendant and its co-conspirators participated in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive HID lamp ballasts sold to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere. The combination and conspiracy engaged in by Defendant and its co-conspirators was in unreasonable restraint of interstate and foreign trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

7. The charged combination and conspiracy consisted of a continuing agreement, understanding, and concert of action among Defendant and its co-conspirators, the substantial terms of which were to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive HID lamp ballasts sold to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

Manner and Means of the Conspiracy

8. For purposes of forming and carrying out the charged combination and conspiracy, Defendant and/or its co-conspirators did those things that they combined and conspired to do, including, among other things:

a. participating in meetings, conversations, and communications in Japan to discuss the bids and price quotations to be submitted to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere;

b. agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, on bids and price quotations to be submitted to certain automobile manufacturers;

- c. agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to allocate the supply of automotive HID lamp ballasts sold to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere on a model-by-model basis;
- d. agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, to coordinate price adjustments requested by certain automobile manufacturers in Japan;
- e. submitting bids, price quotations, and price adjustments to certain automobile manufacturers in Japan in accordance with the agreements reached;
- f. selling automotive HID lamp ballasts to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;
- g. accepting payment for automotive HID lamp ballasts sold to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices;
- h. engaging in meetings, conversations, and communications in Japan for the purpose of monitoring and enforcing adherence to the agreed-upon bid-rigging and price-fixing scheme; and
- i. employing measures to keep their conduct secret, including using code names and choosing meeting places and times to avoid detection.

Trade and Commerce

9. During the period covered by this Information, Defendant and its co-conspirators sold and/or supplied to certain automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere substantial quantities of automotive HID lamp ballasts manufactured in Japan and shipped into the United States and from other states in a continuous and uninterrupted flow of interstate and foreign trade and commerce. In addition, substantial quantities of equipment and supplies necessary to the production and distribution of automotive HID lamp ballasts by Defendant or its co-conspirators, as well as payments for automotive HID lamp ballasts sold by Defendant or its co-conspirators, traveled in interstate and foreign trade and commerce. The business activities of Defendant or its co-conspirators in connection with the production and sale of automotive HID lamp ballasts that were the subject of the charged conspiracy were within the flow of, and substantially affected, interstate and foreign trade and commerce.

Jurisdiction and Venue

10. The combination and conspiracy charged in this Information was carried out within the Eastern District of Michigan, at least in part, within the five years preceding the filing of this Information.
