Join Chair Gary Gensler for a fireside chat with Chris Brummer of Georgetown University Law Center during the last day of DC Fintech Week - a four-day virtual conference.

DC Fintech Week brings the best and the brightest together for discussions spanning the fintech ecosystem: crowdfunding, online lending, cryptocurrencies, cybersecurity, AI, open banking and more.

It is one of the few panels open to the public where top officers from the Bank for International Settlements, U.S. Treasury Department, and SEC are able to dialogue with economists, Bitcoin traders, academics, civil rights activists, and digital infrastructure providers.
